

revisiting
home.eco

Goal: 15 names a day by Thanksgiving

How can home.eco help us achieve this business goal?

agenda

introduction

reviewing
home.eco

defining the users
and tasks

features

prioritizing

1 — (5 minutes)

What do you think is working well with the current home.eco site?

2 — (5 minutes)

What do you think isn't working well with the current home.eco site?

Is there a clear statement of the purpose of the site?

Is the site's design aesthetically appealing?

Are the fonts easy to read on various screen sizes/resolution?

Do clickable items stylistically indicate that they are clickable?

Are bodies of text broken into easy to read chunks?

How intuitive is it to navigate? Are signs obvious or obscured?

working well

isn't working well

3 — (5 minutes)

Who is home.eco for?

Who are our target audiences?

Are there other potential users who can benefit from the site?

4 — (5 minutes)

magenta
post-it

What are the users trying to accomplish?

What are the users' needs? End goals?

What are the emotional/experience goals (ie. not feeling technologically illiterate)?

What kind of activity do we want to observe?

5 — (25 minutes)

orange
post-it

DISCUSSION QUESTION:

What feature(s) does home.eco need to help users achieve their goals?

What are the important features that will help a user accomplish a task?

What are the tactics/services we can implement to achieve their goal?

the end
thank you!